Who am I ?

Armed with a Master's in Computer Applications (MCA) and 1.5 years of battling bugs in the unpredictable realm of full-stack development, I am a coding sorcerer crafting digital magic. I transcend the title of a mere Software Engineer, bringing a dynamic touch to web applications that leaves users impressed and fellow developers mystified.

With the ability to transform convoluted business requirements into elegant code, I am not just a coder but a wizard in the realms of both front-end finesse and back-end wizardry. My expertise encompasses a magical array of technologies and programming languages, turning software dreams into reality with a dash of enchantment and a sprinkle of coding sorcery. If you seek someone committed to delivering superior, scalable, and responsive software, look no further - for I am the conjurer your projects have been longing for.
